Set your trees & shrubs up for success.

Fall is prime time for planting trees and shrubs in the Brazos Valley. By planting in the fall, their roots will have enough time and moisture to establish a healthy system before the harsh summer heat. Start your trees and shrubs off on the right track by adding a hormonal root stimulator to your planting program. By adding a hormonal root stimulator to your newly planted trees and shrubs, you help promote healthy root systems, and guard the roots against stress and shock through the winter.

For more information on promoting healthy root systems this fall, call Producers Garden Center.

From The Ground Up

From The Ground Up educates our friends and neighbors in the Brazos Valley about agriculture and its impact on their everyday lives. Be sure to watch our weekly televised segment at approximately 6:15 am on Thursdays or during the Saturday 6 o'clock evening news on KBTX-TV 3, Bryan-College Station's CBS affiliate.

The desire to locally source food and reconnect with America's agriculture roots have strengthened over the past year. Wharton County rancher, Rachel Cutrer, shares her experiences and love for agriculture on this weeks From The Ground Up.
